Our historians shew us what it was; namely, to kill the queen, as she was riding abroad: and how he had encouragement for doing the fact from the pope; one of the cardinals, named cardinal CHAP, di Como, assuring him of the popes allowance and absolu tion, as of a highly meritorious act, in his letter dated from Anno 15s4. Rome, January the 30th, 1584. The very original whereof, ComoTietin Italian, I have seen among the papers of the lord Burgh-ter to him, ley, then lord treasurer; being the popes plenary indul-rTM gence and pardon of all his sins. And it being so remarkable a piece of history, I might set it down from thence: it was superscribed, Al signore Guglielmo Parri. Beginning, Mon signore, la santita, &c. The cardinals whole letter ran thus in English, as I find it translated in one of our historians; which I cannot but set down, being so instructive of what I have afterwards to add of this matter. Sir, His holiness hath seen your letter of the first, with the certificate included, and cannot but commend the good disposition and resolution which you write to hold toward the service and benefit public. Wherein his holiness doth exhort you to persevere, and to bring to effect that which you have promised. And to the end you may be so much the more holpen by that good Spirit which hath moved you thereunto, he granteth unto you his blessing, plenary indulgence, and remission of all your sins, according to your request. Assuring you, that beside the merit that you shall receive therefore in heaven, his holiness will further make himself debtor, to acknowledge your deservings 250 in the best manner that he can; and so much the more, in th...
