

Living the Magic: A Walk on the Lighter Side

This is a book about wisdom and spiritual awareness. It is about discovering a compassion for others and experiencing the joy of living. It is a compilation of observations, experiences and lessons shared: So compassion and understanding come from the heart. They are within us, and there is perhaps a universal circle where when good is done to us that we must in turn do the same for others. When that circle is broken by the purveyors of bad news and divisionism of the populace through false ideas and archaic concepts such as racism, religious bigotry and sexism, it is easy to lose sight of the necessity for compassion and kindness.

The heart of the matter would be thus: When you are compassionate and caring for another, and bestow upon them kindness, the goodwill from such a gesture flows like a comforting river through our society and the result can be a peaceful global community working together. ~ Michael Delaware Rediscover within this book the power of laughter, indelible love and goodwill that were the lessons we knew when we were children, and somehow lost our compassionate touch along the way. Reach out for the magic of the human touch, the spiritual lift and the universal roar of humanity and take a walk on the lighter side
