

The Parable of Creation: Being a Presentation of the Spiritual Sense of the Mosaic Narrative as Contained in the First Chapter of Genesis (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Parable of Creation: Being a Presentation of the Spiritual Sense of the Mosaic Narrative as Contained in the First Chapter of Genesis There can be no doubt that a large portion of the prejudice against the Bible which is held by skeptical minds comes, not so much from wilful infidelity as from misunderstanding. The same may be said of the present tendency among all Christian sects to deny the plenary or verbal inspiration of that book which claims, in itself, to be the Word of God. It is not because people want to reject it so much as because they cannot discern wherein its inspiration, in many parts, consists. The method of interpretation revealed by the Lord through Emanuel Swedenborg and set forth in the Writings of that illumined expositor, discloses the fact that it is only in its spiritual sense that the Word of the Lord can be made fully consistent, harmonious and rational, and be justified, as such, to spiritual minds.
